

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Methods and systems for accessing multicast content by a user device over a network.

The user device receives multicast service activation data over a network. On the user device, a broadcast key is generated so that the multicast content may be sent to the user device.